System Requirements For GmailGeiger:

(No Projection Screens on Main Character) This project is the remake of the original project, however with many changes in the battle system. We have taken a lot of feedback from our early testers and have ensured this project is set up to the best of our ability to make this a very fun game. However we are aware that this game will be very demanding of your system, so please bear that in mind when purchasing this game. Also remember to be aware of any legal limitations your computer may have regarding the graphics we have used in the game. We
