Police said there was no danger to the public, however, and the incident remains under investigation. [Erythrocyte contamination of culture media in vitro. A new infection risk]. The erythrocyte or erythrocyte-packed fraction of blood transfusions may contaminate culture media. In the present case, a culture medium was contaminated by whole blood, obtained from leukaemic patients. The cells of the erythrocyte fraction were infected with Toxoplasma gondii; the parasites were phagocytosed by a macrophage.

Q: Editing a subclass using an Abstract subclass method
I have the following classes:

public abstract class MyClass {
    abstract MyClass get();
